

Invitation to the Web-Congress

VISIONS FOR TRANSITION

How Agriculture and Cities of the Future can save Biodiversity

Climate crisis and ecosystem collapse are threatening our food supplies and health. That's why we need a substantial change of agriculture, our lifestyles and our handling of nature. How can we achieve these goals?

More than 20 internationally renowned scientists and experts will focus on these issues at the two-day congress „Visions for Transition“ with presentations and in workshops by giving answers to the questions put by the audience in panel discussions.

You can expect Hans Rudolf Herren (Co-author of the World Agriculture Report), Rob Hopkins (Founder of the Transition Town Network), Marta Guadalupe Rivera Ferre (Chair for Agroecology at the University of Vic-Catalonia), Wolfgang Cramer (Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC), Violette Geissen (Soil Physics and Land Management, University of Wageningen), Alice Vadrot (Austrian Board for Biodiversity), Martin Grassberger („Das leise Sterben“, Science book award of 2020) and many more ...

The congress is sponsored by our congress partner Blühendes Österreich, European Environment and Health Initiative and Wiener Umweltschutzgesellschaft. A „Youth Advisory Council“ has been established including Fridays for Future, Landjugend, Plant 4 Planet and GLOBAL 2000 activists to represent young people's perspectives in the congress.

We are looking forward to your participation!

Web-Congress

On May 11th and 12th 2020

Information on programme & registration at global2000.at/kongress

Free participation.

Contact: ruth.rohrmoser@global2000.at

Co-funded by the European Union

GLOBAL 2000

FRIENDS OF THE EARTH
AUSTRIA

VISIONS FOR TRANSITION

How Agriculture and Cities of the Future
can save Biodiversity

global2000.at/kongress

Web-Congress
11.-12. MAI
FREE OF CHARGE